

VAT & INDIRECT TAXES

OVERVIEW

Our VAT and indirect tax specialists advise clients on a wide range of domestic and international VAT issues, customs duties and other indirect taxes. We focus on providing commercial, technically astute and practical advice. Our team includes experienced advisors in the US, China, Germany, as well as the UK.

We have extensive experience in contentious and non-contentious VAT and indirect tax work including customs duties. Simple administrative errors in relation to customs duties can give rise to significant penalties for importers of goods into the EU. We adopt a strategic and practical approach to negotiating on such issues.

OUR WORK, BOTH WITHIN THE UK AND GLOBALLY

We help a wide range of organisations, such as investment banks, large multinationals, pension funds, real estate investment funds, property owners and investors.

- International VAT issues
- VAT in business acquisitions and disposals
- VAT in financial services and insurance
- VAT on real estate transactions, including the transfer of a business as a going concern (TOGC), option to tax and anti-avoidance measures
- VAT litigation
- VAT planning
- Customs Duties disputes

The VAT reverse charge is coming soon. So what else is new?

If the Brexit deal, ongoing Covid-19 developments and updates on the Building Safety Bill and the Corporate Insolvency and Governance Act isn't enough to keep those in the construction industry on their toes, the latest guidance from HMRC is that the VAT reverse charge on construction services will commence from 1 March 2021.

New HMRC guidance on VAT and SDLT treatment of lease variations

During the Covid-19 pandemic, landlords and tenants are increasingly varying their leases to reflect the business difficulties facing tenants. In response, on 29 July 2020 HMRC issued guidance on which types of lease variations may result in a VAT or SDLT charge. HMRC say that this guidance does not change their policy, but one could question whether this is correct.

UK economic statement: VAT cut for hospitality sector and SDLT saving for residential property

After the broad brush measures taken at the start of the COVID-19 crisis, UK Chancellor, Rishi Sunak, is now targeting help for some of the hardest hit sectors of the economy and is supporting jobs in particular. In his economic statement today the Chancellor presented his plan to protect, support and retain jobs. This included temporary tax cuts to stamp duty land tax on acquiring residential property and temporary targeted VAT cuts.
